

THE BIG QUESTION

HOW CAN WE GROW OUR CORE VALUES?

What could we do to strengthen our core values? Which ones do you use the most? Which ones do we need to strengthen more often?

Our Core Value Champion

Jadav Payeng is an Indian environmentalist who decided he would help his local community by planting a tree every day in the local wastelands. He has done this every day since 1979, when he was just 19 years old. His forest is now over 550 hectares, which makes it larger than Central Park in New York! He completed all of this work on his own and this has led to him being known as the Forest Man of India and the forest has now been named after him in his honour.

Thanks to the work to help improve his local community and allow animals to thrive in the area again, Jadav has seen wildlife return to the area and thrive. Some of the animals that now live in Jadav's forest include: Bengal tigers, Indian rhinoceros, deer, rabbits, monkeys, birds and elephants, as well as many other species. He has had many books and documentaries made about what he has done to help his community, which you can learn more about in our links (the book "Jadav and the tree place" below and the documentary "Forest Man" above).

1

HOW MANY CORE VALUES DO YOU KNOW? WHAT DOES EACH ONE MEAN?

2

PICK A CORE VALUE. WHAT COULD WE DO TO STRENGTHEN IT?

3

WHAT WOULD YOU DO TO HELP PEOPLE IN YOUR COMMUNITY?